Description of the Project

This project tries to give a solution to the shares European problem of unemployment and the social exclusion, affecting particularly adults and vulnerable groups.

The objectives are accepted and well-known among our partnership, real, plausible, necessary and quantifiable, as well as a constant reference when it comes to each decision made:

1. To find any teaching need concerning transversal competences for employability in adults at risk of exclusion
2. To exchange of experiences in educational planning and teaching vulnerable adults
3. To sketch a training plan for the development and the improvement of the competences that are found in shortfall
4. To implement courses and activities within the framework of that plan in our centres and other institutions
5. To assess and exchange the outcome
6. To systematise and expand our plan to the region's educational services

Sub-objectives:

- To alleviate school failure and adult absenteeism
- To strengthen a European space that may fuel living together
- To provide training for transversal competences to find a job, such as foreign languages, ICTs, self-learning and entrepreneurship

Our aims are conceived accordingly to the European policies about the three key questions that affect the Union: demography and migrations, economy and employment, and sustainable technologic development. The European Commission (2010) talks about "an intelligent, sustainable and socially integrating growth" -Strategy 2020-. Our partner institutions, such as the UAb, address the principles of the strategic framework: "lifelong" Education and Training 2020 (European Council 2009) and the guidelines about permanent learning, promotion of adult learning, the use of ICTs and expanding mobility among teaching trainers.
